Compliance Inspection
Mining Law Administration

Company: Georgia-Pacific Corporation

Inspection Date: May 12, 1995

General Location: Moore Road

Author: Neil A. Simmons

Legal Description: T.22S., R.8E., Section 24 and T22S., R.9E., Section 19.

Mining Claims: BJ #22-24 and 28-30.

Current Status: Active

Noncompliance Items: The tire have not been picked up, but I have been assure that Dinosaur Tire has said they will do it when they have a truck down this way.

Remarks: I met with Bob Shajary from North Las Vegas and the new plant/mine manager, Lamar Christiansen, plus a couple of the workers, Paul and Terry. I explained our problem with cumulative impacts. Bob indicated that this operation was marginal and they did not have the money to do an EIS. I said that they would have to stay within their 21 acres, but we might be able to give on an acre or two. Bob said he wanted to start on reclamation so that GP would have more acreage to work in. I pointed out that the acreage could not be released until it had vegaetation growing on it so that we would find it acceptable. I suggested that they could reclaim the storage area and move the storage area into the pit. Bob liked that idea and was going to measure the storage area to see how much they could gain. Bod indicated that they would also reclaim the western portion of the pit after they hauled the boulder pile to the plant. I reminded Bob that he would have to submit an amendment for the change, but that approving should not be much of a problem. I mentioned that U.S. Gypsum was interested in doing an EIS with Georgia-Pacific.
